

I have loved listening to KLOVE for many years and have been financially supporting them for 4 or 5 years now. The previous station I listened to had good music, but as it did not have a Christian venue, some of the songs and comments didn't support my way of thinking. If KLOVE could not be picked up in my area due to the change in LPFM vs. FM translators, I would miss it considerably. KLOVE brings the Christian message to the 30-60 year old population in a way that the more conservative Christian stations can't and the secular stations don't. In these times of political correctness, all needs should be taken into consideration, including the Christian viewpoint that founded this country. If KLOVE would lose its broadcasting power on the FM translators, there would be many of us losing an uplifting support in our lives. Thank you for your time.
